

Making baskets can mean making money.

Doing things together
makes life more enjoyable.

Guide for utilization

Objectives:

1. To understand the importance and function of bamboo in everyday life
2. To learn techniques and a variety of designs for actually making bamboo products
3. To realize the possibility of additional income and a fuller life through sale of bamboo products

Target:

Middle and self-learning level neo-literates in rural areas

Application:

1. Before distributing booklets to learners, the instructor briefly talks about the importance of bamboo. Showing actual bamboo products to learners is most effective.
2. After booklets have been distributed and read by learners, problems and, especially, points of interest are taken up in question-and-answer and discussion among participants (including instructor).
3. A group of interested persons is formed to discuss improvements in village life, focusing on actual bamboo crafting.
